Rhino Goes to Hollywood

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

(April 5, 2010– Medina, Ohio) Rhino Industries has made it to Hollywood. Rhino's spare tire carrier has been added to the current lineup of military HMMWV's at Five-Star, a military vehicle rental company to the entertainment industry.

HMMWV operators, military and civilian, know exactly what to expect when it comes to off road performance. These operators also know that you must be prepared for the worst when you're miles from the nearest service garage. Rhino's outstanding reputation and proven manufacturing capability ensure that there are no problems for the operator if the HMMWV gets a flat tire. The HMMWV's spare tire weighs up to 163 lbs. The Rhino Spare tire carrier enables the operator to lower the spare tire from the carrier to the ground, and to raise the tire from the ground to the carrier, without risk of injury.

The newly formed alliance between Five-Star Military Vehicles and Rhino Industries will ensure that authentic equipment is used to represent our military on film.

"The RICO Drop Down Spare Tire Carrier is a significant improvement to the HMMWV. I have spoken to many veterans of Iraq and Afghanistan who claim it sped up tire changing in combat situations. With it, an individual soldier is able to lift the heavy wheel/tire combination, freeing others to pull security. Five-Star is thrilled to include this impressive accessory to its HMMWV stock."

-Stan Serr, Five-Star Military Vehicle

RICO is proud to be the sole provider of the HMMWV spare tire carrier to the U.S. Military and now to the movies.
